

How Vision Develops in Children with Down syndrome - Talk by Dr Maggie Woodhouse

Monday 9th October 2017, 9.30am to 11.30am
(Registration and Coffee from 9.15am)

At: Centre 88, Saner St, Hull HU3 2TR

Maggie is an optometrist at Cardiff University and has been studying how vision develops in children with Down syndrome for over 25 years. She runs the only primary care eye clinic aimed at children and adults with special needs in the UK, and regularly gives talks to parent groups, teachers etc. on how to ensure that children with Down syndrome get the most out of their vision. This session is suitable for parents, teachers, teaching assistants, SENCOs and other professionals involved in the support and education of children with Down syndrome.

Cost: £15.00 for staff from schools supported by Downright Special, £25.00 for out-of-area settings, £5.00 for Downright Special parents. Payable in advance.
